Hear from four of Atlanta's top transportation leaders on their careers and keys to success!

Women's Transportation Seminar (WTS) at Georgia Tech will host four of the top female transportation leaders in Atlanta for a panel to discuss their experiences and insights from working in the transportation industry. Panelists will offer perspectives from a variety of roles in transit agencies, county and city governments, and engineering and planning consulting firms. All are welcome to attend, and free lunch will be provided!
